

PLUG TOP REPLACEMENT

Plug top or extension socket replacement is required when either are damaged and are replaced with a new compliant plug or socket.

Faulty plug tops or extension sockets are found when a visual inspection is performed prior to any electrical test. If a visual inspection finds a plug or socket has discoloured due to overheating or pins are loose, corroded or burnt due to arcing or if internal leads are exposed, a new transparent plug or socket is fitted.

